Benton County's 9-1-1 center experiencing technical difficulties

Richland, WA—Benton County Emergency Services is currently experiencing difficulty with the county's 9-1-1 phone system. Residents are asked to call 9-1-1 only if they need immediate police, fire or medical response. If residents cannot get through on 9-1-1, they should call (509) 628-0333, the center's non-emergency line.

If residents cannot get through on either line, they should go to their nearest fire or police station for assistance.
